ADELAIDE RAGLAND

Beautician Shot Four Times Escapes Death

The early morning quiet of the 1300 block of Richmond ave. was shattered about 4 a.m. last Sunday when shortly after five or six shots were fired, the air was filled with the scream of sirens from police cars and an ambulance hurrying to 1349 Richmond ave.

Cut down by four bullets after her estranged husband kicked down the door and argued with her for a few minutes was Mrs. Adelaide Ragland, popular beautician, who lists some of the city's most fashionable women among her clients.

Arraigned in City Court on Monday and held to the state on charges of assault to murder, Monday and held to the state and carrying a pistol was Harvey C. Miller, who gave his address as 719 Alston st.

KICKED DOWN DOOR

According to police, Miller came to the beautician's home and asked to be admitted.

When refused admittance, he reportedly kicked the door down. An argument with Mrs. Ragland followed, and when Miller became angry at statements she made to him, he began firing.

The bullets struck her twice in the legs, once in the upper left arm and once in the stomach. Her condition was listed on Monday as "satisfactory."

According to one report, an unidentified couple was in the house at the time that Miller started shooting, and alarmed by the loud talk and pistol reports, the pair leaped through a glass window, carrying the pane with them, and fled the scene.

WAS DESPONDENT

Homicide Capt. E. C. Swann said his officers were told by Miller, known to most of his associates as "Columbus" Miller, that he was despondent because "his wife would not come back to him, and that he was still in love with her."

Miller was said to have been drinking before the shooting occurred.

On Sunday, the Tri-State Defender office was called by numerous friends of Mrs. Ragland, who had heard about the shooting and who had gotten reports that her injuries had been fatal.

A reporter from the newspaper called the hospital and was told that the victim was sitting up in bed eating her supper.

The victim was visited on last Monday by a reporter in an effort to get her to clear up some of the reports about the shooting in her home, but she refused to give any information.

ALL LIES

Ignoring her dinner, Mrs. Ragland asked to hear the statement issued by police, and then said, "That's all lies. I didn't say that. I have not lost consciousness since I was shot, and I did not tell them that."

"All of this happened in my own house, and it is no business of the public."

"When my sister died when I was 19, and left her five children for me to raise, no one thought about writing a story about what I was doing then," she said.

Mrs. Ragland said, "This is all that I have to say to you: I am feeling fine; I have plenty of energy left, and I am not going to die."

She demanded that the papers make no mention of her being shot, and added that there would "be trouble" if such a story appeared.

Another reporter from this paper called at the home and was greeted by a gruff male voice, but no one came to the door.

He did, however, notice glass pane was missing from the front door.

Dan Hancock Buried; An Attendance Officer

Funeral services for Dan H. Hancock, sr., attendance officer for the Memphis Board of Education for more than 10 years, were held at the Mississippi Blvd. Christian church on Saturday afternoon with the pastor, Elder Blair T. Hunt, delivering the eulogy.

Mr. Hancock died early Feb. 15 at Collins Chapel hospital. He had suffered a stroke while attending to duties at Manassas high school a few days earlier.

According to friends, Mr. Hancock was a native of Arkansas, and moved to Memphis about 1939, where he was employed with North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance company as district manager.

When the company attempted to move him to another area, friends said Mr. Hancock resigned from the insurance field and accepted the post with the city school system. He became a familiar figure

George Lee Replies To King's Blast Of Republican Party

A Tennessee Republican State Committeeman, George W. Lee of Memphis, this week took opposition to Dr. Martin Luther King's recent blast of the "hypocrisy of the Republican party."

King expressed in strong terms his displeasure with the members of the House Rules Committee who voted against the bill by which President John F. Kennedy sought to create the new department of Urban Affairs and Housing.

King said of the Republican Party, "I am appalled and sickened by the destructive viciousness of the insidious coalition which stands determinedly flatfooted in the path of the progress of the American people as a whole." Lee said in a written reply to King's criticism:

"I feel it is important to have both points of view presented of the Republican Party's position on the Bill by which President Kennedy seeks to create a Department of Urban Affairs in Housing. I want to make it clear that I respect Dr. Martin Luther King. He has definite opinions as to the position the Republican Party should take and he is articulate in presenting his opinion."

"I personally disagree with the position that Dr. King takes in condemning a whole party for what he considers hypocrisy on the part of five members of that party voting against the Bill."

"He states that the Republican Party showed hypocrisy in voting against the Bill—yet he fails to condemn the Democrats who had a majority on the committee of 10 to five and who could have passed the Bill despite the opposition of the Republicans, if they had been concerned. But Dr. King doesn't stop there; he goes on to say that he is filled with disgust over the hypocrisy of the Republicans."

Dr. King's charges might easily apply to a handful of Democrat extremists on the race question—but race is clearly not the cause of Republican opposition.

Lee stated further, "There are radical conservatives in the Republican Party just as there are radical conservatives in the Democratic Party. All parties have divergent elements. Of course, I would be happy to see Dr. Robert C. Weaver made a member of the President's cabinet. I think it would be a fine thing for the nation both at home and abroad. On the other hand, I think the Democratic High Command is using this Urban Affairs Bill to gain political advantage with Robert C. Weaver, head of Housing and Finance, as merely an unhappy pawn in a political chess game.

"The presentation of the Bill at this time seems to be devised for the purpose of putting the Republicans behind the political eight rock."

"The quest of a Department of Urban Affairs is one thing and the quest of Mr. Weaver's appointment to a cabinet position is another. The proposed plan to create an Urban Affairs Department should be voted up or down on its merit, without regard as to whether or not a Negro will be appointed to the Kennedy cabinet. One is left to believe that the Democratic administration's

Hamilton Coed Crowned 1962 NDCC Queen

A pretty 16-year-old junior at Hamilton high school was crowned the 1962 Queen of the National Defense Cadet Corps of Memphis City high schools during the second annual NDCC military banquet and ball, last Saturday night at Carver high school. She won over six other coeds from other city high schools.

The NDCC Queen is Miss Carole Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Jones, 1381 S. Willet st. The retiring queen is a senior at Hamilton school, Miss Phyllis Ross.

The featured speech at the banquet was delivered by Col. Marvin L. Jacobs, an Army engineer at the Memphis Depot. He said: "NDCC teaches discipline, citizenship as well as how to give and obey commands."

The colonel added: "NDCC makes for loyalty to our country during these days when people want to know where young people stand."

He placed emphasis upon the "invaluable necessity" of a well rounded education. He said, "education today is invaluable to our country, our citizens, your race and your family, as well as yourself."

Col. Jacobs urged the cadets and coeds "to at least continue thru high school. However, complete your college education if at all possible even if you are forced to do it at a sacrifice," he said.

He concluded with, "education is the greatest emancipator."

Also speaking briefly was the superintendent of the Memphis City Schools, E. C. Stimbart; and Maj. George Robinson, head of NDCC in the city's Negro high schools, Miss Harry Mae Simmons, principal of Magnolia elementary school, was mistress of ceremonies.

Palbearers included Nat D. Williams, Robert Morris, I. A. Bodden, L. B. Matlock, Ted Beauchamp, Martin Gray, Ike White, Will Freeman, Melvin Conley and Dr. E. A. Witherspoon.

Interment was in New Park cemetery, with T. H. Hayes Funeral home in charge of final arrangements.

JOINS W. C. HANDY — Richard "Dick" Rose, one of the original members of W. C. Handy's band, died last week at Shelby county hospital and was buried in Memphis on Sunday after services were held for him at R. S. Lewis Funeral home. A familiar figure in Memphis for several decades, he played violin, guitar and piano for the Handy band. According to friends, Mr. Rose moved here from Boston. A frequent visitor to Hooks Brothers studio, this is one of the last photographs made of him. (Hooks Bros. Photo)

Supreme Court Hears Airport Suit Monday

NEW YORK — On Monday, Feb. 26, the U.S. Supreme Court is scheduled to hear argument on Turner v. City of Memphis, a case involving racial segregation in the Dobbs Houses restaurant in the Memphis, Tenn., airport.

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, Associate Counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, will argue for Jesse Turner, the appellant.

Alumni Present $1,000 To Help Equip Library

A check for $1,000 has been presented to LeMoine college by members of the local LeMoine Alumni club. The money will be used to furnish and equip one of the rooms in the library building now under construction.

The check was presented to LeMoine President Hollis F. Price as a climax to Alumni Day which was conducted this year in form of an alumni-faculty soiree.

Presenting the check to President Price was Mrs. Ann L. Weathers, president of the club, after it had been written by the club treasurer, Benjamin Lewis.

The soiree, a colorful and enjoyable occasion, was directed by Misses Thelma Townsend and Frances Thomas, recent graduates of the college who are now teaching in the Memphis Public School system. Program chairman was Mrs. Charles P. Roland.

The affair was saddened however by the death of Casselle Knox, a member of the college's chemistry department. It was to have rendered a saxophone solo at the soiree.

Turner is appealing from a decision of a three-judge Federal court of January 23, 1961 which refused to rule on the merits of the case. The lower court held that Turner should bring an action in Tennessee courts for construction of the

HARMONY-UNITY

"The purpose and program of the Memphis Cotton Makers' Jubilee, Inc. is to dignify manhood, inspire youth, to portray the Negro's contribution to the economic life of the South, to glorify the possibilities of cotton, the chief product of the South, in serving the demands of our National interest and security; to advertise Memphis as a place of good-will, harmony, and unity between the races," said the founder.

"In accordance with this purpose and program, we have dignified manhood and womanhood by crowning adult and junior kings and queens, we have inspired our youth by sending our young girls on National Tours to the principal cities of America and Foreign countries; we have displayed talent in essay contests, Jubilee Shows, a n d school bands in parades before the thousands of spectators that line the side walks eager to see and to applaud what we have in Memphis."

"Furthermore, a vital phase of the tour of the Jubilee queen was to visit top government officials, such as the vice president of the United States, governors of states, senators, congressmen, mayors of cities, top personalities in business, education, and the theatrical world as well as to make appearances on radio and television shows such as the Arthur Godfrey Show, Welcome Traveler, Steve Allen, Jack Parr, Queen for a Day and many others."

"What other Institution or occasion of this kind can provide an opportunity for public observation of such a vast audience, as the Memphis Cotton Makers' Jubilee?" said Dr. Venson.

NAACP Legal Defense Fund attorneys representing Turner in addition to Mrs. Motley are R. B. Sugarman, of Memphis, and Jack Greenberg of New York City.

Turner is the first Negro to be elected to the Democratic County Committee in Shelby County, Tenn. Since Reconstruction, he is executive vice-president and cashier of the Tri-State Bank of Memphis.

The Dobbs Houses restaurant at the Memphis Airport is the one which refused service to Deputy Assistant Secretary of State Carl Rowan last month.

Local NAACP Officials Seek To Discontinue Cotton Makers' Jubilee

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Below are two statements. One was released to the Tri-State Defender by local NAACP officials and the other by the Cotton Makers' Jubilee officials, who are headed by the founder, Dr. R. Q. Venson, a local dentist. The statement released by the NAACP, bore the name of Dr. H. Clarke Nabrit, chairman of the Freedom Committee, an affiliate of the local NAACP.

Jubilee's Statement

Dr. Venson said in a written statement:

"The opposition against the Memphis Cotton Makers' Jubilee, Inc. on the grounds that is a segregated part of the Memphis Cotton Carnival is without merit and is misleading. These are two different Corporations, hence the Memphis Cotton Makers' Jubilee, Inc. is not a counter-part of the Memphis Cotton Carnival, but rather a protest organization against the Negroes' participation in the Memphis Cotton Carnival pulling floats, picking banjos, singing plantation spirituals, wearing dusters and bandanna handkerchiefs, and eating watermelons atop floats, and sitting on bales of cotton throughout downtown Memphis."

HARMONY-UNITY

"The purpose and program of the Memphis Cotton Makers' Jubilee, Inc. is to dignify manhood, inspire youth, to portray the Negro's contribution to the economic life of the South, to glorify the possibilities of cotton, the chief product of the South, in serving the demands of our National interest and security; to advertise Memphis as a place of good-will, harmony, and unity between the races," said the founder.

brit, chairman of the Freedom Committee, an affiliate of the local NAACP.

NAACP officials claim, according to the statement that the Cotton Makers' Jubilee "perpetuate segregation. Jubilee officials, while vowing to continue the 22-year-old affair, contend that the affair "is not a segregated part of the Memphis Cotton Carnival."

NAACP Statement

"The Memphis Branch of the NAACP has protested production of the Cotton Makers' Jubilee, by unanimous means for the past two years. It is still our feeling that this spectacle does not fit into the scheme of social progress that is now revolutionizing our entire nation," said Rev. H. Clarke Nabrit.

"In Memphis, more progress has been made in peace relations and civil rights in the last two years than in the previous two hundred, and it was brought about by gently but insistently demanding these rights, then exercising them with dignity and intelligence, so impressing the entire community that daily more and more people are coming to realize that ours is a fight for right and righteousness and are blending their efforts with ours to help in this fight to bring all the principles of democracy in proper focus in our community."

MULTI-BILLION

"The promoters of The Cotton Makers Jubilee say that the organization does three things: Promotes the sale and use of cotton; helps spotlight Negro talent, and promotes interracial good will. It is our contention that the promotion of the cotton industry through this celebration is a great hoax. None of the individuals connected with the celebration are even remotely connected with the cotton industry, and the scope of the program is so limited that it could not begin to be an effective force in this multi-billion dollar industry," said Nabrit.

"It is also our contention that little or nothing is done to develop and promote Negro talent. Talent used in the celebration is largely trained in the public school system and can best be displayed in a more satisfactory atmosphere by organizations of a higher cultural standard, better suited to supervise the continued development of such talent."

Said Nabrit, "as relates to interracial goodwill, we feel that the quality of interracial goodwill and better race relations fostered by this celebration is not in accord with the ideals of the movement for social progress that is now sweeping the world. We know that the true interracial goodwill is not created by the master-servant relationship of slavery days when the master came down to the quarters to have the field hand perform for him, but rather by individuals of both races recognizing the universal doctrine of the brotherhood of man, and working together creatively to solve our problems as we are so effectively doing in other areas of community life here in Memphis."

AT ITS WORSE

"We further contend that the Cotton Makers Jubilee is the segregated counterpart of the Cotton Carnival though no connection exists on paper, encouraged to remain in operation by certain segments of the white community to help keep the Cotton Carnival segregated. If this is not true, then why not have the Jubilee on July 4th, or Dec. 25? Why do they run concurrently if one is not the counterpart of the other? This is self-imposed segregation at its worse."

RACE RELATIONS

"We further contend that the general atmosphere created by the Cotton Makers Jubilee is one that is not in accord with the basic principles of morality and good conduct."

Regional Basketball Tourney At Washington

The 1962 Regional Basketball Tournament is scheduled to be played at Booker T. Washington high school starting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 28 and continuing thru March 3.

This tournament brings together the top teams from three districts, which are:

District I, composed of the Memphis Prep League.

District II, Shelby County Schools.

District III, Schools from Ripley, Covington, Halls, Madison, Somerville, Brownsville, Whiteville and Bolivar.

Representation in the Regional Tournament is determined by district tourney play. The top teams so far are Booker T. Washington and Lester in district I; Mt. Pisgah and Woodstock in district II, and Halls, Ripley and Covington in district III.

First and second place winners in the regional tournament will go to the State Tourney which is played in Nashville the second week in March. Last year's winners were Washington first and Carver second.

These teams went on to gain third and second place in the state, respectively. Which teams will win out this year is the big question. Mt. Pisgah—Halls—Lester or Washington seem strongest according to seasons records but tournaments seldom go according to form.

Negroes Buy $3 Million In Real Estate Here

William T. "Jack" Simmons, owner of the recently established Simmons Real Estate Company at 401 Linden ave., said on the eve of the grand opening of his business, that "there is approximately $3 million worth of real estate sold to Negroes in Memphis every year. Of that amount less than five percent is sold by the five local Negro real estate companies."

He went on to say "An estimated 95 per cent of white real estate companies in Memphis will permit Negro real estate salesmen and brokers to sell property for them to Negro clients. However, Negro clients will still buy from white salesmen."

Simmons said "Perhaps Negro home buyers are not taking into consideration that duct, and can only lead to the detriment of our youth to be let out of school to view and participate in this spectacle.

"This is no proper environment for our sons and daughters, and the reasons given for its continued existence do not begin to balance the evils connected with it, even if the reasons were valid ones. We contend that the Cotton Makers Jubilee does nothing for the advancement of Memphis Negroes or any segment of the community."

"It is our feeling that the Cotton Makers Jubilee serves to perpetuate segregation, retards social progress, impairs the young, and impedes building of better race relations. It is for these reasons that the Memphis Branch of the NAACP has protested and will continue to protest the segregated Cotton Makers Jubilee."

effort to bring in the completely unrelated race issue smacks of a fear that the bill cannot be passed in its present form," said Lee.

"The implications of the Democratic High Command that Republican opposition to the plan to create an Urban Affairs Department is based on opposition to the elevation of Mr. Weaver to cabinet status is hardly convincing—in the light of the record and the record shows that the fight for approval of Mr. Weaver's nomination to head the Housing Agency was led by a Republican in the Senate, Bank and Currency Committee, Senator Jacob Javits of New York. While the Democratic senators, who should have been leading the fight for confirmation, were opposing Mr. Weaver and a third Democratic member of the committee was making himself look ridiculous in his opposition to Weaver," said the Republican.

"In the senate debate on the confirmation of Mr. Weaver, the Republicans spoke in support of the nomination—six Democratic senators spoke against the nomination. It is reasonable to assume that the opposition of the Republicans is political rather than racial—their faith seems to mother the belief that the Democratic High Command through this Bill is making a herculean effort to extend its control over the vote of the big cities in the nation."

Lee continued, "The nomination of Negroes to high offices in the government by the present administration indicates that President Kennedy is living up to this phase of his campaign promises. It is to be hoped that the president will not pursue the course

A SIDEWALK PHILOSOPHER explains the racial situation in America thusly: "There's an icicle between Negroes and whites and its going to have to melt before there's real good race relations. Whites don't hate Negroes and Negroes don't hate whites... but it is that icicle that makes them cool toward each other."

If nothing else, the comparison has merit.

REAL ESTATE DIGEST

By Jesse L. Williams

By JESSE L. WILLIAMS

"Now the Lord is at it a spirit; and where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty," 11 Corinthians 3 chapter, 17 verse.

"God is a spirit and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." St. John 4 chapter, 24 verse.

Urban redevelopment. We sometimes think of city planning as something new. All cities have been planned whether we think it or not. They were planned in terms of the anticipation of future needs that was current at each stage of each city's development. The inadequacies of such planning become apparent when the rate of growth exceeds expectation.

The pattern of city streets, the distribution of real estate uses, the character of building, etc., all need replanning. Urban redevelopment now contemplates the replanning of considerable areas, with abandonment of street patterns and their replacement with more modern means of transportation and communication; greater attention to a proper balance of real estate uses; consideration for public uses; etc. The need for urban redevelopment testifies to the dynamic nature of the problem of American city change.

The ever need for redevelopment should erase from our minds any lingering hope that what we do today will serve for all time to come as the final answer to the problems which we face. If we can do a reasonable job in meeting the issues of our day, we can leave to those who follow us the task of changing our results to suit their needs.

We are changing what our forefathers did in their day. What reason is there to expect that similar changes will not be needed after we have done our best to fashion what we consider to be modern cities? What we inherited was once modern. It has become the yesterday of today. Today must inevitably become the yesterday of tomorrow.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN Let him not, who is homeless, pull down the house of another man, but Let him work diligently and build one for himself. Property is the fruit of labor. Property is desirable. It is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. Let not him who, is homeless pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently and build one for himself, thus by example showing that his own shall be safe from violence when built.

Nashville Loan Firm Has Integrated Board

NASHVILLE—When The Community Federal Savings and Loan Association opened here this week, an experiment in civic cooperation began with the association operating under an integrated board of directors.

The dedicatory ceremonies held Sunday, Feb. 18, in Kean Hall on Tennessee A and I State university campus, when Tennessee's Gov. Buford Ellington participated.

The ribbon-cutting followed immediately at the newly completed Community Federal building, 2430 Jefferson st., where open house was held for public inspection.

"Nashville is moving ahead with the sixties," says Charles A. Rawls, Brownsville, insurance executive, who has been named president of the association.

"And," he continued "Community Federal is moving into this dynamic decade prepared to perform complete savings and home loan services designed to meet most exacting specifications."

Inman Otey of the Otey chain food stores is managing the new banking house.

Others participating in the opening ceremonies were Sen. Estes Kefauver, Congressman J. Carlton Loser, Nashville's Mayor Ben West, Judge Beverly Briley of the Davidson County Court, President M. G. Ferguson of Citizens Savings Bank and Trust co., Mrs. George N. Redd, and Rev. W. J. Simmons.

The debate teams of LeMoyne college and Arkansas A.M.&N. State college of Pine Bluff were about evenly matched when they clashed on the LeMoyne campus. Judges voted the forensic battle a tie.

Subject debated was: "Resolved: That Labor Organization Should Be Under the Jurisdiction of Anti-Trust Legislation." U. Grant Harvey and Willie Ray Terry of LeMoyne handled the affirmative side and H. Beecher Hicks and Langston Davis of Arkansas defended the negative aspects of the question.

LeMoyne debaters are coached by Waymond Saylor, assistant professor in the social sciences department. Miss S. Williams is the Arkansas coach. The two teams will debate again Feb. 22 at Pine Bluff.

Judges for the first debate were Dr. Juanita V. Williamson and Dr. Ralph G. Johnson of LeMoyne's English department.

Integration Wins 1; Loses One As Top Court Rules

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Supreme Court Monday struck down an unconstitutional Louisiana's local option law which permitted counties to close their public schools to escape desegregation.

The court in a brief order upheld a ruling by a special three-judge federal court in New Orleans last Aug. 30 which declared the state statute invalid. The lower court opinion had called the law an "experiment with ignorance."

The local option statute was enacted by a special session of the state legislature in February, 1961. It provided for a referendum to enable Parish (county) voters to indicate whether they preferred no public schools to mixed schools. The county school boards could then act accordingly.

The Supreme Court acted without comment.

Integration At Miss. U. Air Force Vet To Press

JACKSON, Miss. — (UPI) — James Meredith, an Air Force veteran, said Sunday he will not graduate from Jackson State college for Negroes this spring, but will continue his efforts to enroll at the all-white university of Mississippi.

Meredith said he would re-enter Jackson State and carry a "minimum load" during the spring quarter. "I will not graduate in May," he said. "If I am admitted to the university in June, I will go."

Last week the U.S. fifth circuit court of appeals in New Orleans refused to grant an emergency injunction against the university allowing Meredith's immediate enrollment.

Meredith's attorney had said he would find himself graduated from Jackson State, where he is a senior, if the injunction were not granted.

The appeals court will conduct a hearing on the merits of the case, probably in April. It will then decide whether to reverse U.S. District Judge Sidney Mize's decision against Meredith.

THE Pulpit SPEAKS

REV. C. THOMAS PAIGE

RACE RELATIONS

"And I, if I be lifted up will draw all men unto me!" John 12:32

Throughout the nation last Sunday was supposed to have been designated "Race-Relations Day." Somewhere in some remote little churches the idea was promoted. The other churches took a strange "hands off" position. In many instances the messages were directed at everything but race relations.

But why should one worry or become disturbed when so many of the sheep go home hungry Sunday after Sunday? They come looking for a Christian message and get everything else, so why marvel at the fact that "Race-Relations" is left out of the program?

In far too many instances we have people in the pulpits who dare not do what they know is right. They lack the moral stamina to do "Thus saith the Lord." The message of God burning upon their hearts is often quenched by the application of cold water.

SOME LIKE HATE

Maybe wholesome race relations are not what many of us really want. Many of us thrive on confusion, hatred, selfishness and the like. The more we have the happier we are. Our popularity and survival is directly dependent upon our ability to appeal to the rabble element of society to which we administer. While over there is somebody who is making a feeble effort to carry out God's will.

Maybe there are those of us who do not accept good race relations as a part of God's will. Maybe there are those of us who would rather keep all of the things that are going on now as is. We fight hard to maintain the status quo. We are against changes in any area if they are promoted by Jesus himself. We fool ourselves into believing that everything is all right with the world as it now stands.

But a closer look at things will make each of us far more conscious of the dire need of race relations and all the other things that stand as impediments to a full realization of the world as designed by God. Today we must fortify ourselves for the better things of life — the only way that this can be realized is through a complete adherence to the full will of God.

LIFT JESUS

Years ago while looking at a decadent society Jesus said, "And I, if I be lifted up will draw all men unto me!" Not only was that practical and the solution to the problems of Jesus' day but it is the same today. Once again we need to lift up Jesus and all that He stands for and thereby solve the world problems. Current world conditions are no different from those during the days of Jesus. Not only is it true that men attach themselves higher and nobler than themselves in the days of Jesus but the same must be done today. It is mandatory today that we appreciate that which is worthwhile.

When Jesus said, "And I, if I be lifted up I will draw all men unto me," the same thing is true today. Only to the extent that in our saner moments we direct all of our attention and efforts to the best this life has to offer will our world and we as individuals be in a position to make contributions to the lives of all those with whom we come in contact.

Today one of the great tragedies of our world is brought out in the fact that there are too many unattached men. Each one of us today should have something for which we are willing to die. This and only this is our salvation. We must align ourselves to that which will make us better people and in proportion that we are better we will be in a better position to make others better.

We live in a day of "imperatives" — we must do certain things if we are going to attain and maintain status in certain areas. There are no substitutes for these "imperatives." Having a spiritual perspective is one of these "imperatives." The only way that any one of us can lay claim to being a Christian is realized through "Lifting up Jesus."

The man, woman, boy or girl who does not lift up Christ can not lay claim to being a real Christian. In the vast march toward somewhere or something today each of us must take on new allegiance to those things or that thing will eventually bring salvation to all of us. This and this alone is the solution to all of our problems.

Negro To Be Declared Saint

VATICAN CITY — The son of a Negro ex-slave and a Spanish knight probably will be declared a saint this year. This would place on the Catholic roll of saints Blessed Martin de Porres who lived in Peru nearly 400 years ago.

Cardinals of the Sacred Congregation of Rites met February 13 to examine the cures through Blessed Martin's intercession. Both cures have been approved by the congregation's medical commissions beyond the powers of nature.

Coleman To Speak

The Clayborn Temple AME church is expected to be addressed by Dr. C. D. Coleman, a general officer of the CME church, Sunday, Feb. 25, at 11 a.m., announces the pastor of Clayborn, Rev. A. D. Brown.

Dr. Coleman is the secretary of education of his denomination.

Canonization is expected May 6.

Blessed Martin was born in 1569 to a Negress who had been a slave in Panama. His father was a knight from Alcantara, Spain. The youth was apprenticed as a barber and studied surgery as part of the barber skill. At 15 he entered the Dominican friary of the Rosary in Lima and became a professed lay brother.

Though beautified by Pope Gregory XVI in 1837, his cause for canonization was dormant until 1928.

The first of the cures was that of Dorothy Caballero of Paraguay in 1948 and the other, 11 years later, took place in Tenerife, Canary Islands.

Here And There

By Elnora Clayton

A grand "Brotherhood Luncheon" will be held in Greater Bethesda Baptist church, 5301 S. Michigan ave., Saturday, Feb. 24, at 1 p.m.

Many members of our church are anxious to attend services on the first Sunday of the month which will highlight "Holy Communion" worship. The Communion service always follows regular sermons delivered by our dynamic pastor, Rev. A. Lincoln James.

The entire membership offered condolence to the bereaved family of our faithful assistant pastor, the Rev. Dr. E. M. Bell, who died recently. He was buried Feb. 3.

Rev. Bell was held in high esteem by our congregation and was a loyal servant of God and the church. He was greatly assisted in his religious endeavors by his faithful wife. We, the members and friends of Greater Bethesda, offer our prayers for "Eternal Peace, Love and Tranquility" for our dear departed assistant minister.

A recent sermon entitled "Prayer", delivered by the Rev. Dr. James, was one to be remembered. "Be not like the hypocrites who love to pray in the street. Prayer is a supplication, a petition and a communication between man and God."

The Lord's Prayer should be repeated by all Christians daily upon arising because God is Love and Peace that is needed to guide us everyday.

Methodists In Crusade To Hike Membership

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — The Central (Negro) Jurisdiction of The Methodist Church will try to increase its church membership by ten per cent during a Bishops' Evangelistic Crusade in the jurisdiction March 11-18.

Membership of the Central Jurisdiction, which covers most of the U.S., is now 367,340, according to the Rev. Dr. W. D. Lester, Nashville, staff member of the Methodist General Board of Evangelism.

In addition, several thousand Negro Methodists are members of churches in other jurisdictions of the denomination.

The Methodist Church in the U.S. is divided into six jurisdictions — the racial Central Jurisdiction and five geographical jurisdictions. Total U.S. membership of the denomination, including the Central Jurisdiction, is more than 10,000,000.

This will be the second such crusade for the Central Jurisdiction. One in 1959 increased the membership of its churches by 10,667, according to Dr. Lester, who was executive director of the 1959 crusade and will direct the coming one.

Among the things to be emphasized during the simultaneous endeavor by the Central Jurisdiction churches will be visitation evangelism, preaching, and prayer.

In addition to the goal of a ten per cent net increase in church membership on profession of faith, it is hoped that at least 25 new congregations and 50 new church schools will result from the crusade.

Though statistical goals have been set, Dr. Lester said, "The real goal is to make every church a praying church, a stewardship church, an advancing church."

Bishops serving areas in the Central Jurisdiction are Marquis L. Harris, Atlanta; Edgar A. Love, Baltimore; Charles

FAMOUS FORTUNE-TELLER

By WALTER C. ROBINSON, Editor, The Chattanooga Observer

Have you ever wondered about those rare persons who are gifted and inspired through the power of God to foresee the future and able to work miracles here on earth? When I think of one certain man I do not think that prophecy and the performance of miracles ended with the Bible era.

Through faith and power of God this man, according to their own statements, has restored sight of Mary King, 3414 Michigan Ave., Flint, Mich. and Cleve Corbin, 115 E. 22nd St., Chattanooga, Tenn. when they were blind.

This man has helped thousands who come to him from near and far with every problem. Word has spread praise of this remarkable man. They come to him with heavy hearts, doubts and fears and leave filled with joy, peace of mind and renewed faith in themselves.

Husbands and wives have been brought back by his strange power. A sweetheart was brought back from Canada through his mysterious gifts. I know of a man who had gone to big expense traveling far to get his wife back. His efforts failed. In despair he came to Doc Anderson who got results in one day. I am amused when I think of the man who came to Doc Anderson to find the whereabouts of his wife. Doc told him where to find her. Was he surprised? I am amazed how many older men claim that Doc has conjured their sexual nature stronger than in youth.

This remarkable man, through his psychic power dating back to his boyhood, pointed the finger at stolen money — $1,500 — and told where it was. The success of the way his numbers have fallen is the result of his psychic mind.

His famous predictions have been so great they were mentioned on "Meet the Press" Pro-

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Adoula Wins U.S. Affection

Premier Adoula's engaging personal-ity and elegant French seemed to have clicked with the American people. He was given a Royal treatment by both Washington officials an- distinguished private individuals who had nothing but high praise for the Congolese leader.

The stage was set for him from the shift in the tide of events in central Africa itself as well as from the changing attitude of the once hopelessly critical world outside the black continent.

In America's sight this 40-year old African is the embodiment of several reassuring symbols. He is the principal visible hope of durable restoration of peace and orderly Western-type governing process in the huge former colony of Belgium in Africa.

He is the symbol of the Kennedy Administration's claim that its indispensable support of the exclusive military activities of the United Nations against the Tshombe government in Katanga was wise, far-seeing and already justified by the result so far.

Painful issues still remain—notably that of the still unrepatriated mercenaries—but Cyrille Adoula seems at the moment as promising a leader as the Congo has produced.

What the Congo needs is to have peace and unity, even though this unity consists of a loose federation. Such a development is of the greatest urgency not alone for the infant Republic in central Africa, but as well for the rest of Africa.

The turmoil that attended the Congo's independence gave support to the thesis that black Africa had not the intellectual equipment and the political know-how to rule itself in an orderly and profitable manner.

This view, although ungenerous and inaccurate, had its effect upon British colonial policy. It is reflected in the unexplained postponement of the date of independence for a number of British-held African territories.

Kenya, for instance, is an outstanding example of British hesitancy to grant complete autonomy to a possession which is quite ready for its freedom. And there are other African colonies which are equally capable of assuming the power of what happened in the Congo. Yet the wait until the British government makes up its mind.

All these precautions are being taken now to prevent, so they say, a repetition of what happened in the Congo. Yet the facts are pretty well established that the dark clouds of tragic disorders that settled over the Congo were the results of foreign intrigues, foreign mercenaries who were bent on squeezing out of the situation the last drop of exploitation.

The Congolese Republic and its people became mere pawns on a vast chess-board where the pieces were moved at the will of foreign powers. The present climate would seem to indicate that peace, if not yet completely established, is well on its way toward creating the atmosphere in which native leadership can succeed in making the country one of the high points of the African revolution.

GOP And Negro Vote

The Republican leadership will have much to explain to the Negro people when it begins its campaign for Congressional seats this fall.

The GOP strategists may well know right now that their cooked up objections to President Kennedy's Urban Affairs Department will not appease the Negro voter.

The excuse that the new cabinet post is a needless enlargement of the Federal bureaucracy is not only unconvincing, but is in complete disregard of the big cities' crying need for a central authority to rescue them for the present chaos in their urban renewal program.

All the reasons given for the opposition to the Administration's proposal are so flimsy and crudely camouflaged that they fail to hide the real motive: objection to a Negro being named to a cabinet post.

The overriding fear is the political consequences of Mr. Kennedy's plan. For, if a Negro becomes a member of his cabinet, an unprecedented gesture of recognition, the Democratic party will have so endeared itself into the hearts of the Negro people that the GOP leadership will have to outdo the Democrats to win any reasonable bloc of the Negro vote.

Republicans had their chances under Eisenhower who throughout his two terms in the White House never once gave his endorsement of the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling.

All of the spokesmen of the party, from New York Governor Rockefeller to Arizona Senator Goldwater, are going up and down the country denouncing President Kennedy for his proposal to put a Negro in the cabinet. In their hysteria they seem to have forgotten that soon they will be pleading for the Negro vote. This consideration should be paramount in their strategy, for the Republicans cannot win a major national contest without the Negro vote.

And the more they scream about Urban Renewal, the more completely they will seal their political doom so far as the Negro people are concerned.

Find Russian Schools Rigid
Compared To U.S. Schools

By ARNOLD SAWISLAK

WASHINGTON — (UPI) —

American youths who think it is hard to get into college in this country can take some solace from the situation of their Russian counterparts.

A house education subcom- mittee that traveled in the Soviet Union last fall reported Tuesday that only 500,000 of 1.5 million applicants were accepted by Russian colleges last year.

The lucky half-million, ac- cording to the report, had to have high marks in high school and in four or five separate competitive entrance examina- tions; two years in the armed services or "the most brilliant" scholastic record; and a "char- acter reference" from their trade union or the Communist party.

Party officials sit with col- lege faculties in choosing new students, the report said.

Russian educators told the congressional visitors that col- lege students had every right to choose their own course of study, but "most students, when applying, do bear in mind the objectives of the state, and decide to adjust their private interest."

Russian educational officials are required to find jobs for every college graduate, and will train no more students for any occupation than there appears to be a need for.

Once in the swim, however, Russian college students are paid a monthly living allow- ance, which is increased for students with high grades. Extra rubles go to students in difficult scientific courses or training to become teachers of handicapped children.

Books are free unless the student wants to scribble marginal notes. Then he must buy his own.

The subcommittee also studied Russian grade and high schools. It reported that Soviet children, who start school at age seven, must start learning a foreign language no later than the fifth grade.

Some schools are starting foreign languages in the second grade.

About 60 per cent of the children take English, but they have a choice of about 50 languages, including Chinese, Hindi and Arabic.

The People

Queries NAACP.

Dear Editor:

The high costs of NAACP court fights have become an African-American scandal. The increasing number of un- worthy causes is to blame.

Mistaken or misled, though zealous with false pride, un- thinking members of the race aided by a few without prin- ciple have clarified for and are traveling the road that leads to anonymity, bankrupt- cy, inferiority, and national abasement.

In too many branches of the NAACP this type of member- ship now dominant has substi- tuted abasement for advance- ment.

He violently repudiates and refuses to accept himself as reflected in a mirror and strives to support Caucasian imperialism or white superma- cacy through integration or amalgamation. Being a child- mentally he shuns self-deter- mination.

He gives no thought to chan- neling his monies toward pay- ing fines, court costs, and at- torney fees for invading the properties of others, but will not contribute one dime toward similar properties representing himself. Being immature he acts without thought.

Therefore the high costs of NAACP court fights continues to increase instead of de- crease.

The mistaken or misled Ne- gro being without a knowledge of his American and African history has accepted the lie label of being inferior. Thus to ape or be with his so-called superiors is his status symbol. Since he abuses his own na- tionality he is naturally unac- ceptable to other nationalities.

So the high costs of National Association for the Advance- ment of Colored Peoples court fights stems from the fact that the organization has within it those who unwittingly repre- sent a national association for the ABASEMENT of colored peoples.

Sincerely yours,

Bids African

NEW YORK — "The rest of the world will not take us seriously if we don't work together in Africa," said the Prime Minister of Nigeria, Al- haji, the Honorable Sir Abu- bakar Tafawa Balewa.

"I don't see anyone around but to those of the whole world as well.

"For the world," he said, I seriously doubt — Patterson will leave boxing. The beau- tiful part of it will be that we won't see again the pitiful picture of a tin cup in the hands of a man who has earned a fortune."

Howard feels there is no racial prejudice in the attitude of boxing writers toward Pat- terson. Cosell thinks that many of the writers have sincere meetings now being held in doubts about Patterson's abil- ity and that many others are encouraging approach to Africa's taking out on Floyd their problems and were evidence of the determination of African D'Amato.

MIAMI — Vacationing here, it is natural to think about Floyd Patterson. Here, in Mi- ami, Floyd settled things with a guy named Johansson and, at the same time, struck a hard blow for democracy. By insisting on integrated seating in the stadium in which he fought and donating a generous gift to the NAACP, Patterson let the whole world know where he stands on one of the most important issues of the day.

It is almost incredible that a wonderful man, and champion like Patterson, receives the kind of treatment he gets from the sporting press. Nine times out of ten, when Floyd isn't being belittled by boxing writers, the many good things he does are ignored.

Frankly, we are prejudiced where Floyd Patterson is con- cerned. To get an objective and expert view of him, both as a fighter and a man, we talked with Howard Cosell, a staff man with the American Broad- casting System and undoubt- edly, one of the ace sports commentators in the country. Here is what Howard says about Patterson:

"I think Floyd Patterson is one of the most remarkable young men in this country. I think he is a walking social documentary of what America is supposed to be. He is kind, gentle and decent."

"I think back to the way Floyd surmounted his initial problems, — family back- ground, disturbed youth, the time he spent in a special 600 school in New York City and at Wiltwyck, a school for problem boys. I contrast that with the gentleness he displays even within the four corners of a ring when he seeks to help a fallen opponent to his feet. Floyd represents something unique in the world of boxing."

Cosell goes on to say that he considers Patterson a "much under-rated fighter."

"I think of the way Floyd has become resigned to the treatment he receives from the press," Howard says. "While he is resigned to their total lack of appreciation for him, the negative attitude of the newspapersmen has turned out to be one of his greatest inspi- rations. The exaggerated im- portance the press gave to Johans- son before Floyd met Ingemar Patterson will win."

In addressing the foreign ministers who conferred in Lagos before the Heads of State Summit Conference now about boxing, believes Pat- terson will retain his crown for urged that the conference not at least another four or five confine itself to the problems years.

"I would like to see every- one take cognizance of the fact that, in a federally-investigated racket of filth, Floyd Patterson remains untouched, decent, con- cerned with helping his fellow man, obsessed with a love of kids and nature. Says Caveman Type Diet Healthier

LONDON — (UPI) — A British nutrition expert says people would be much better off if they went back to a "caveman" diet.

Prof. John Yudkin told the Royal Society of Arts that a cure for modern food habits which lead to obesity would be a return to the mainly protein diet of our caveman ancestors.

The professor said that too much food, particularly carbohydrates, and too little exercise lead to overweight problems and poor health. He said too many "sweets" were eaten which cause only harmful, overweight effects and help produce tooth decay.

Hospital Integration Unit To Hear Sen. Javits

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, of New York, who has introduced in the Senate legislation to "amend the Hospital Survey and Construction Act to prohibit discrimination in any respect whatsoever on account of race, creed, or color in hospital facilities," will be one of the principal speakers at the Sixth Imhotep National Conference on Hospital Integration, it was announced by Dr. W. Montague Cobb, founder of the conference and editor of the Journal of the National Medical Association.

Dr. Emory L. Rann, of Charlotte, N. C., is chairman of the Sixth Conference. The conference under the joint sponsorship of the NAAACP and the National Urban League, will be held May 25-26 at the Fifteenth Street Presbyterian church here.

Sen. Javits' bill would wipe out a long-standing but little known provision in the Hill-Burton Construction Act that authorizes federal grants for segregated hospitals.

Although the Supreme Court has struck down the separate-but-equal principle and the federal government bans segregation in veterans hospitals, Sen. Javits charges that Hill-Burton funds have been dispensed to construct or modernize 90 segregated hospitals.

He not only is attacking the segregation of Negro patients, but also the segregation of Negro physicians by hospital and medical societies. Referring to the 1962 Imhotep Conference, the Journal of the National Medical Association states in its current issue: "Racial discrimination in the practices of hospitals in the U. S. both as to patients and physicians is conspicuous throughout the country in 1962 without reference to region or population density. Although the nature and degree of this discrimination varies from place to place and although significant recent progress has been made in many areas, the continued practices constitute a major obstacle to the equitable extension of the services of our hospital system to the American people."

Leaders of the conference say the meeting is being held "because the time appears ripe for a successful all-out attack upon this last entrenched bastion of discriminatory policy. It is hoped that the assembly of interested and responsible representatives there will evolve a meeting of minds which will result in action to end the problem in the spirit of Imhotep (He Who Cometh in Peace)."

The NMA Journal says determined challenge of the entrenched discriminatory hospital practices has appeared in many quarters since the conference was initiated in 1957.

J-U-G-S, INC., RECEIVES A HELPING HAND! Eight years ago, the J-U-G-S, donated $800.00 to the Council to Aid Limited Children. Very soon thereafter, the city and state boards of education established schools for retarded children. This program absorbed the objective of the Council and since then, it has not functioned. Most of the funds given by the J-U-G-S to the Council was unused; at a time when funds are most needed by J-U-G-S, something wonderful happens.

Spring Hat Show Attracts Large Crowd To PTA Program

By MRS. MYRTLE CRAWFORD

"Swing into Spring in '62" seemed to have been the central theme of the Hanley PTA Hat Show, as many beautiful hats were modeled by feminine personalities of poise and charm on Friday night, Feb. 2, in the Hanley School cafeteria.

Guest hat designers were Mrs. Verna B. Mooror and Miss Eunice Carruthers, both of whom presented beautiful creations that had the judges baffled on which hats were "The Most."

The affair was commented by Mrs. Ruthie Strong. Commenting the show was Mrs. Martha Jean Steinberg, who modeled hats by Gene Burr of Lowenstein.

Then came Mesdames Marjorie McFerrin and Dora Robinson who charmingly modeled beautiful hats from Rhealee's Hat Shop. These were followed by still more who modeled stunning hats from their own wardrobes.

OTHER MODELS They included Mrs. Billye C. Davis, in a flower creation of the pink (two-tone), Mrs. Pauline Stephens in an eye-catching black straw; Mrs. Ida Johnson in black straw with pink flowers all around the band; Mrs. Gertrude Miller lovely in a unique pill box of multi-blue touched with green; and Mrs. Mae D. Smith was charming in two creations of Cocoa net by Norman Duran and a flowered hat of pink rosebuds and carnations.

Mrs. Rose Goodman was also charming in deep purple with flowers in the back; Mrs. Mildred Polk strolled casually out in a beautiful deep cranberry velvet in multi tones of aqua; Mrs. Kathryn Mayes, petite matron, was cute in pink velvet with feathers and gloves to match. Mrs. Willie Brown came out in a becoming black straw that complimented her outfit.

Adding her bit to the program, while models relaxed was Little Miss Barbara Cato, who sang "Drink to me only with Thine Eyes."

Appearing in the next group of models were Mrs. Bernice Bridgeforth in a darling two-tone brown with beige plume trimming. This hat was designed by Mrs. Mary Frances Allen.

Other pleasing personalities modeling hats from their personal wardrobes were Mrs. Magnolia Hardy, Mrs. Minnie Parker, Mrs. Bobbie Sanford.

Then came breath-taking creations of Miss Eunice Carruthers and Mrs. Verna B. Mooror. Miss Carruthers had as her models Misses Virginia Chappelle, Dorothy Slate, and Ethel House, Mesdames Margaret B. McWilliams, Althea

Price and Maridelle Reed. Miss Chappelle was seen in floppy red hat of straw cloth which could be worn two ways a red tulle with rhinestones. Mrs. Price wore white chiffon deep crown and the Navy Blue tulle with flowers interspersed. M.J. Reed was in yellow tulle covering yellow flowers and the very small green straw with a rose and veil; Mrs. McWilliams in the purple flowered and Miss Slate in the two-tone beige flowered hat with touches of green; and Miss House displayed pretty mint green peau de soie (satin) and the black satin.

Mrs. Mooror modeled her own creations. The wide black lace with flowers and the rhinestone turned-up straw were most beautiful.

Following Mrs. Mooror were Miss Carruthers' models who displayed more beautiful chapeaux.

PRIZES GIVEN Climaxing an eventful affair was the awarding of door and hat prizes by Mrs. Patton, PTA secretary. After the deliberation of the judges, the final decisions were: Most Beautiful (Mooror); Most Original (Mooror); Most Unique (Carruthers); Most Versatile (Carruthers).

Judges were: Mesdames Amanda Brown, Vernelle Tolerson, Zania Ward, Nanilee Banks, Jeanette Powell, Valerya Jeffrey and Miss Beatrice Jackson. Mesdames Arlette Wright and Maggie Jordan were co-chairmen of the affair. Mrs. Selena McCargo is president of the PTA, and Mrs. Beulah M. Williams, Principal of the school.

Hanley Elementary school is in its second year of operation and this was the second "Chicken-Spaghetti Dinner and Hat Show" sponsored by the Hanley PTA who adopted the entertainment as the Association's annual financial project.

Proceeds will be used to buy books for the library now under construction.

"Bobby grows out of his clothes so fast I can hardly keep him in jeans," says their mother. "But Francis is growing right into them."

Their father, Dr. Robert Higginbotham, is physician for the Midland, Pennsylvania High School. His private practice takes him many miles through neighboring country.

Mrs. Higginbotham left her art-teaching career several years ago. But she is still an artist in the kitchen—with an eye to nutrition. "I get extra Vitamin D into this family by using Carnation as the milk in puddings and pies and cocoa—and on cereals!"

Carnation is the healthy family milk—with extra Vitamin D to help build sound teeth and bones. No wonder this milk in the red-and-white can is the world's favorite evaporated milk, by far.

"I get the creamiest cream pies—just by using Carnation," Mrs. Higginbotham declares. (See recipe below.) Even when you add an equal amount of water, Carnation is richer than sweet, whole milk—for smoother results in all your cooking!

recipe: CARNATION'S EXTRA-CREAMY CHOCOLATE CREAM PIE (Makes one 8-inch pie)

- 1 package chocolate pudding-and-pie filling mix
- 1 cup undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK
- 1 cup water
- 1 baked 8-inch pie shell

Combine the pudding and pie filling mix with Carnation Evaporated Milk and water in saucepan. Cook according to label directions on mix. Pour into 8-inch crust. Cool. Top with toasted coconut or sliced bananas.

Healthy country boys "growing up overnight." Bobby and Francis Higginbotham, aged 7 and 4, were both Carnation babies—and they're both Carnation boys! Mother is an artist, Daddy is a doctor.

In observance of American Heart Month, Mrs. Edna Cawthorn has been again made chairman of the J. T. Beck division of the Heart Fund Drive. Many persons are working with her and you are asked to make your contribution when called upon before the end of this month.

We are sure many hearts were made happy last week with tokens of remembrance on St. Valentine's Day. For all of you diet watchers, those huge boxes of candy changed the program a bit, but resistance was difficult, I know.

Jackson has made a great strides in race relations and it was felt that Race Relations Sunday had a greater meaning for Jacksonians and a community which integrated one of its former all-white schools without incident.

The Sunday was observed at St. Paul CME church at an afternoon program with Commissioner of Education R. L. Patey as the speaker. He said in part that the city administration was going to continue to do all in its power to make Jackson a proud place to live.

AKA CELEBRATES
Later the same afternoon, members of Beta Chi and Gamma Alpha Omega chapters of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority celebrated Founder's Day in the chapel of Lane college. At this time Mrs. Callie Stevens of Memphis, Tenn., served as the guest speaker, centering her address on the theme "Investment for Service." A reception followed for the honored guest in the college dining room.

Another important event of the month was the celebration of Negro History Week. At Merry high under the direction of the Social Studies Department, a series of programs were presented keyed to the theme "Negro History and a New Birth of Freedom."

A public program was given on Friday night at which time the Lane college choir Spirituals along with orations on the progress of the Negro.

Spring brings with it many annual church celebrations also. On Sunday, Feb. 25, Women's Day will be observed at St. Paul CME church with women being in charge for the day. Everyone is invited to hear one of our own, Mrs. Vivian Hawkins Robinson, who now resides in Birmingham, Ala., who will speak at the 11 o'clock hour.

BATON ROUGE

By M. N. RINGGOLD

The unusually cold weather during the past few days has caused some loss of time in getting off our news and other important material, but we are determined to finish both in time to get down to some other material that must be mailed today that is, if we hope to maintain the business of "Doing Unto Others As We Would Have Them Do Unto Us."

Many Baton Rouge friends of Miss Louise E. Lewis are doing their best to help her back to health and some happiness after undergoing so much sorrow during the serious illness and death of her sister.

Mrs. M. J. McArthur is making every possible effort to recuperate from the illness she suffered from the loss of a limb, and the hospitalization etc. Few people could have met conditions as she has. And she is meeting these conditions better, a n d more cheerfully than most of us could.

We are feeling much better over the illness of Mrs. Carter Walker than we did a few days ago. Her niece and many friends find her doing much better and showing signs of improvement. She has been very ill for the past few days.

Mrs. B. K. Johnson reports this morning in answer to questions as to how the sick ones in her home are, that all are doing fairly well today. A short visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Thomas was indeed enjoyable yesterday. Not only the home folk, but the house and lovely flower yard make one so happy and uplifted. We did enjoy our visit.

Our home was made very happy this weekend, so many former pupils, instructors, relatives and friends called. And were we glad to see each! It is good to be remembered. One gets elated over it.

We have just talked with Mrs. Smith, the daughter-in-law of Rev. D. T. Smith, who informed us that Rev. Smith, our pastor, is doing very well in the Veterans hospital in New Orleans. We do hope that he continues improving.

Letters from San Francisco make us feel happy as they state how well our dear niece, Billie J. Purnell is doing as a Social Service worker. Illness prevents my being with her. But, she will always be our dear, dear "Baby." We hope to be with them and our other nieces and nephews soon.

We are happy to find Mrs. M. J. McArthur on the improved list this morning. She has been under care of a physician for quite some time, but we are happy to find her sitting up this morning.

We have just received an encouraging letter from our dear niece, Mrs. M. G. Purnell. We are happy over the news that all are well again.

Mail from San Francisco let us know that our nieces there are liking their respective "jobs" very well. One is in social service; one in business education; one in bookkeeping and one in homemaking. We are trying to encourage each in the respective field chosen.

MANASSAS HIGH NEWS

The Manassas student body deviated from the schedule of academic work to emphasize the love one should show for his fellow man, regardless of race, creed or color in an observance of Brotherhood Week.

Our guest speaker was the Tennessee regional director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and one of Memphis' most prominent citizens, Hugh Murphy, who was dauntless and outspoken about racial discrimination and hatred among races. One of the main reasons why the Memphis Round Table was organized was to provide better relationships with ethnic groups of this city. Mr. Murphy gave a simple yet true key to brotherhood as he explained that "God is love therefore, brotherhood is love; if we are to become brothers with our fellow men we must do two things: Put God first in all your undertakings; Examine our hearts and clean our minds." Mr. Murphy climaxed his message with a prayer for peace and love among men.

Participating on the program were Gwendolyn Robinson, the Mixed Chorus rendering the selections, "Live Humbly" and "Give Thanks." James Phillips, president of the Student Council, presented the annual brotherhood award to Elmer Harrison, Manassas' symbol of brotherhood. Soloists on program were Carita Harrison and Zelma Phillips. Rev. E. Currie was in charge of the devotional part of the program.

Other distinguished guests were: Mrs. Ethel Venson, director of the March of Dimes here in Memphis and Mr. Lesley Rosen, co-chairman of the senior committee of the Memphis Round Table. Mrs. Venson presented an outstanding service award from the March of Dimes to our own Charles Branham.

This year the Memphis Round Table rounded out its membership with the acceptance of three citizens and civic workers of our city, Louis Hobson, A. Maceo Walker and A. C. Williams.

Accuse P.O. Of Reverse Racial Bias

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Rep. J. Vaughn Gary, D-Va., has accused the Post Office department of practicing reverse discrimination by not firing a Negro mail carrier from Savannah, Ga.

Gary, in testimony made public Sunday, did not name the mail carrier but apparently referred to Westley W. Law, an official of the NAACP.

Law was fired last September. But on Oct. 24, Postmaster General J. Edward Day reinstated him with a severe reprimand following the recommendations of a three-man appeals board.

"A man who was clearly not fit to be in the service was retained," Gary said, "because an outside organization, of which he apparently was a member, raised the question of discrimination and in the final action there was discrimination, but in his favor," Gary said.

Gary made the statement last month during hearings of the House Post Office appropriations subcommittee.

West Conference Missionary Society Presents Dinner

The women of the West Tennessee Conference Branch Missionary Society of the AME church presented fellowship dinner at St. Andrew AME church, Friday night Feb. 2, in the spacious and artistically decorated dining hall.

The affair was one of a series leading up to a Calendar Tea scheduled for March 11, under the supervision of Mrs. Sarah Garrett, Conference Branch Missionary president.

The general chairman of the Fellowship Dinner project, Mrs. Hattie Harrison, assisted by some leading officers of the society, presented a program and dinner on a very high educational and informational order.

Mrs. Daisy B. Scott, the Conference Branch Secretary, stated the purpose of the occasion and listed a series of projects to be completed by the conference organization during 1961-1962.

Among these were planned services for home and foreign missions; Quadrennial expenses, Y.P.D. Workers, District sustentation, Personal welfare, special entertainment and courtesies with a goal set for the year at $2,300.

DINKINS SPEAK
Dr. C. L. Dinkins, president of Owen college, delivered the key-note address which was a strong appeal to the audience to meet the challenges of the new day through education, Christianity and a determination to seek the higher and lasting values of life and to be realistic instead of a human "show case."

Miss Gracie L. Conley and Lee Cunningham, two outstanding soloists, of Memphis, rendered some inspirational and classical music for the occasion.

The Fellowship Dinner committee which included Mrs. Hattie L. Harrison, general chairman, Mesdames Pearl Campbell, co-chairman; Irma Bearden, M. R. Todd, Alfred Motlow, R. L. Duncan, B. Parish and others rendered excellent service in planning and serving a delicious menu.

Mrs. Sarah Garrett, conference president and Dr. E. M. Martin, pastor of St. Andrew, made some very impressive expressions of commendations and congratulations for the program planned and executed by the Conference Missionary society.

Mrs. H. Ralph Jackson was the mistress of ceremonies.

Too Much Self Dosing

LONDON — (UPI) — A Manchester University professor has expressed concern over the self-regulated medical habits of the average man.

Prof. A. D. MacDonald outlined the possible self-medication during a day in the life of a businessman as follows:

"He wakes up far too early in the morning. The cares of the day ahead of him and the anxieties over the day pass crowd in. He takes a quick short-acting sedative so that he may complete his seven or eight hours of sleep."

"His morning coffee (or tea) does not quite relieve him of some hangover, so he snaps up a stimulant. In spite of a liberal diet he adds a multiple-vitamin pill—just in case."

"His hurried bacon and egg (or whatever he has for breakfast) leave him with some gastric discomfort. So he takes an anti-acid and may have to repeat the dose after lunch. By evening he is a bit exhausted—and possibly in an irritable mood."

Surely we do not want to believe that men are so small souled they want only glamor from women. Or that they can be happy in marriage without those qualities which have preserved it throughout the ages... tenderness... sympathy, laughter, understanding and spiritual affinity. However, some women lose their husbands because they cultivate good looks instead of good dispositions.

Tommy's Corner

by TOMMY PICOU

Major League baseball's determination to obtain equal treatment for all its personnel has already started to produce a profound change in spring training procedures and attitudes when the world-champion New York Yankees opened their new plush, Fort Lauderdale site recently.

In a half-dozen deep south cities the quaint, folks customs are in the process of being shattered. The Negro superstar, with his $50,000 salary, will accord the same cuisine as the white players. Everywhere in Florida, Arizona and California the "under-one-roof" policy is bound to generate the greatest togetherness since the Old Orioles were quartered in a single Dixie boarding house.

The same principle is being applied by the teams this year, booking private or semi-private accommodations. The Yankees have booked a motel wing, private swimming pool and dining room. The Mets, who move into the abandoned St. Petersburg, will be privately ensconced in a wing of the new Colonial Hotel. The White Sox have purchased an entire hotel of their own, the Sarasota Terrace. The Braves, Cards and Reds and reported to have private motel arrangements. The Dodgers, in their leased air base at Vero, have the best layout of all but it's a long way from California.

One club joins the scanty western training contingent and, surprising to state, it's the only one with luxurious home-crown Jim Crow now that St. Louis has seen the light. This is the new Houston club which will travel to Apache Junction, Arizona where integration is rife and all men are created free and equal.

The other clubs in Florida will be the Baltimore Orioles at Miami; the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland, the Washington Senators at Pompano the Minneapolis Twins at Orlando, the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater, the Pittsburgh Pirates at Fort Myers, and Kansas City Athletics at West Palm Beach.

Except for the Orioles none of these clubs had done a thing for the Negro players. They still will have to go on taking "separate but equal" accommodations. The movies won't let them in. They can't stop and get a hot dog if they're hungry. If their wives and children want to go swimming the broad free Atlantic is denied them.

Miami is an exception for there is a beach for Colored people, Virginia Beach in Biscayne Key, halfway out to Crandon Park. But this has its disadvantages like all accommodations white people set up for the Negro.

Baltimore is a little above the other Jim Crow clubs in that it has made arrangements for its Negro players to eat and sleep with the others in the McAllister hotel, one of the string of Stand-and-Deliver enterprises on the Miami Waterfront. There's nothing they can do otherwise except read or play cards or checkers with each other.

The Miami police won't let them walk around in the streets in certain white areas at night unless they can produce a note from their boss. It occurs to me that the Orioles property man would do well to stock up with turbans and swami robes for evening use to the Colored players. The same might work well in the other segregated places where Negro players will be stationed.

Johnson A. Young, general chairman of the Morehouse-Fisk basketball game, reminded me that the annual meeting between these two schools will be held Saturday, March 3 at St. Ann's Gymnasium. The game will start at 8 p.m.

Young said that a preliminary game conducted by the Church Leagues, will head the card starting at 7 p.m.

This year marks the 10th consecutive meeting between the two clubs in the Chicago area. At present the count in the Chicago series is 5-4. Morehouse holding a slight one game lead. A bitter rivalry has been going on between these two schools for over a half century and whenever they meet, it's like two animals stalking each other in a jungle of lawlessness.

Last year's game was a bitter fought contest with Morehouse reaching the wire first in a 94-91 victory. This year the Maroon Tigers will be seeking their fifth straight win over the Bulldogs.

The annual affair is sponsored by the Morehouse-Fisk Alumni Clubs of Chicago. Proceeds from the game will be used by the Clubs to send worthy Chicago students to Morehouse and Fisk.

Florida A&M Defeats Knoxville Col., 83-71

By D. N. COLLINGTON
(Defender News Service)

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida A & M University Rattlers took a command lead over all opponents in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Still undefeated in nine starts the Ed Oglesby-Ernest Fears coached five has a 6-0 league record. Alabama State and Clark College are the only loop teams on the FAMU schedule that have not tasted Rattler venom.

The Floridians took a clean sweep of South Carolina State, 98-82, '61 circuit visitation champions. Benedict College 99-86, SIAC tourney champions, and Knoxville College 99-67.

While on the road earlier this month, Tuskegee Institute fell 90-80, in the FAMU gym last Tuesday night. Only South Carolina State College has led the Florida "5" during the first half of play.

HOT SHOTS

The Oglesby-Fears coaching combination has employed three-team platoon system and it has paid well in victories. The hot shooting first unit is made up of three seniors, a sophomore, and a freshman. The second unit is constructed with sophomores, while the third squad is knitted with a couple of sophomores and three frosh.

Senior forward Waite Bellamy tossed in three field goals before the Fort Valley contest and a minute old and the listless Tigers never got within hopeful range of the high scoring Rattlers.

Jim Mathis of FVS made a try for scoring honors in the first five minutes with the visitors first three two-pointers. Ed Williams of Fort Valley took scoring honors for the night with 27 points. FAMU's Bellamy gave way to the changing units and settled for a night's total of 17 points, 16 of them tallied in the first half. Melvin Johnson shared the FAMU scoring with Bellamy with 17. Other Rattlers hitting in the twin digits in the Fort Valley game were Herb Graham 14, Ralph Cottman 13, Willie Collier, Cliff Bridges 11 each, Bill Sharpe and Sam Jenkins 10 each.

The 9-0 record held by the FAMU cagers extends the Rattlers' sports record to 19 straight victories without a defeat this school year.

Cincinnati Wins

Twin-Bill Title

One of the contributing factors in Cincinnati's drive to the 1961 National League pennant was the Reds' ability to win two games in one day.

Fred Hutchinson's charges swept ten double-headers and dropped both ends only twice. Cincy split even in seven other twin bills for an overall double-header record of 27-11.

FAMU Honors Gaither, Team At Grid Banquet

TALLAHASSEE — Florida A & M University's national championship football team was feted along with the coach-of-the-year Jake Gaither at the annual banquet of the Rattlers recently.

The Rattlers, unbeaten in 10 games, were acclaimed champions of national Negro college play. Gaither was voted national small college coach of the year.

Dr. George W. Gore, Jr., president of A & M, presented to Gaither a plaque from faculty members. A & M assistant coaches Hansel Tookes, Ed Oglesby, Pete Griffin, Costa Kittles, and Robert Mungen also received plaque.

LITTLE ALL-AMERICA Center Curtis Miranda received a framed certificate for his selection to the Little All-American first team of The Associated Press.

Quarterback James Tullis won the most valuable player trophy. Quarterback Emory Collier received a sportsman-ship award of the Tallahassee Quarterback Club and a trophy for being selected the outstanding all-round senior.

Willie Clarrington received the linemen-of-the-year trophy, and Robert Paremore won a similar trophy as A & M's back of the year. Archie Williams received a trophy as the outstanding freshman player. Marion Patterson got the "Snake Pit Award," presented to the outstanding non-varsity player.

Angels Sign Harris;
First Negro ScoutBy BRAD PYE, JR.
(Special to the Defender)

Veteran scout Willie Harris, 51, and father of Cleo Harris, Chicago White Sox bonus baby, became the Los Angeles Angels' first Negro "diamond ivory hunter."

The hiring of Harris, who previously scouted the Southern California area for the New York Mets and the Cincinnati Reds, was announced Friday by Roland Hemond, the Angels' Farm and Scouting director.

Harris, the father of three, will work the Southern California area under the direction of chief scout Rosey Gilhouse.

In announcing Harris' appointment, Hemond stated, Gilhouse is real high on Harris and we are particularly pleased to have such a high caliber man join the organization.

Among the top boys for which Harris acquired major league contracts are Manual Arts high's Paul Blair (N.Y. Mets), Fremont high's Eddie Crawford (Cincinnati) and Fremont's Lonzo Wilson (Cincy).

Others whom he has been instrumental in signing are Bell's John Lord (N.Y. Mets) and Jordan high's Gregory Nash.

Harris brings four years of scouting experience to the Angels. For three years he was employed by Cincinnati and he spent almost a year of service with the N.Y. Mets.

SEMI-PRO PLAYER
Back in his native Arkansas, Harris starred for several years as a semi-pro player. A resident of California since 1943 Harris and his wife, Florence, reside at 14015 Parmelee Ave., in Compton, Calif.

Locally, Harris has served a stint as manager of the Prince Hall Pirates.

And I DOWNED

A partisan Tennessee State Alumni, among approximately 2,000 fans in the Melrose Gymnasium, were shocked when the Alcorn Braves roared from behind to score a 93-92 upset over the Tigers in a scholarship benefit game, last Wednesday night.

Coach Harold Hunter's Big Blues led all the way, and despite the Mississippians making a game of it most of the way, the classy, nationally ranked Tigers dominated the game until a fatal steal of the ball with just 12 seconds remaining, resulted into a three-point play for the Braves. Tennessee was off to a fast start, but Alcorn rallied and cut the advantage to 43-47 at halftime.

An interesting observation of that first half of play, was that Alcorn substituted very freely with 11 players of the 14-man squad, getting into action.

WERTS COMMANDER

The three - times - NAIA champions controlled the backboards against Alcorn as long as Gene Werts, their six-foot, six-inches center was in the game. Werts showed class and experience in under-the-basket matriculations. Werts sat out last season on the advice of a physician because of an illness. Werts, the top Tennessee State scorer, drew three quick fouls early in the second half and was taken out. His absence was quite conspicuous.

ALL-AMERICAN VICTIM
The Tigers threatened to break the game wide open with less than 10 minutes to play, when they jumped to an 11 point margin. Alcorn wasn't to be denied, fighting to within six points of their opponents, as the game approached the three-minute mark.

The Tigers made the big decision at this point, electing to stall out the clock with their patented freeze. Alcorn reacted with a tight pressing defense that caused A and I a bit of anxiety. Finally, the game was knotted at 84 all.

After a whirlwind exchange of baskets and the score tied, the unexpected happened. Porter Meriwether, All-American State guard, had the ball cleanly stolen from him by Alcorn guard, James Gales. Gales drove for the lay-up and was fouled abominably. With the score 93-90, Alcorn needed only to prevent a three-point play.

The Tigers tried to work the ball into Werts, but double-teaming forced the long jumper, which was good. However, time ran out before the ball could be put into play.

Alcorn, a Cinderella team all season, scored one of the old institution's greatest triumphs. They showed it by whooping it up afterwards. Alcorn does not have an all-conquering record, for they had dropped an encounter to Mississippi Vocational college before coming here. The Braves' victories over Grambling and Jackson State proved that they can match baskets with the best of them on a given night.

The Memphis Alumni Association of Tennessee A and I State, led by the promotions of Frank Lewis and Dan Ward, did a fine job in getting the large turn-out, even if the game's ball was furnished by Alcorn, and the game held up so Tennessee A and I could change into Melrose's white contrasting jerseys. Over $2,500 is expected to be turned over to the school in honor of the W. J. Hale Scholarship Fund.

LEMOYNE OFF TO TOURNAMENT

Finishing their season with two important victories over Fisk University, 94-83, and Kentucky State, 98-75, the LeMoyn College Mad Magicians left to participate in the SIAC Tournament at Tuskegee Institute earlier this week. The hoop festival runs from Thursday through Saturday. LeMoyn qualified by finishing fifth in the Conference with an 8-5 record.

NCAA Tourney, NIT Grab Teams As Cage Ban Ends

NEW YORK — (UPI)—The agreed-on ban on signing independent basketball tournaments came to an end and the N.C.A.A. tournament promptly grabbed four teams and the National Invitation Tournament three.

The N.C.A.A. gave "member at large" berths in its major college tournament to Villanova (16-6), Oregon State (17-3), Creighton (15-4), and Detroit (15-4).

The N.I.T. nabbed defending champion Providence (15-5), Loyola of Chicago (16-2), and Duquesne (16-5). These are the first three teams named to the 25th annual 12-team N.I.T., which will be held at Madison Square Garden, March 15-24.

The N.C.A.A. now has six teams lined up—four plus Arizona State, champion of the Border Conference, and Bowling Green, champion of the Mid-American Conference, who earned automatic berths by winning their league titles.

Magicians Overrun Ky. State Thoroughbreds

LeMoyn's sparkling Magicians turned back the highly rated Kentucky State College Thoroughbreds Saturday night in a thrilling contest in Bruce Hall. Final score was: LeMoyn, 93; Kentucky, 75.

It was the final scheduled game of the season for Coach Jerry C. Johnson's Magicians. The LeMoynites are in Tuskegee this week for the SIAC championship tournament.

In the 16-college Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference basketball race, LeMoyn came out with an 8-5 record. In non-conference games, the Magicians won six and dropped one.

The Magicians proved themselves masters of the basketball court Saturday night because in obtaining victory it was necessary for them to chop down a team of tall men who were good shots from the floor.

LeMoyn's tight defense plus the team's tricky plays helped to bring out the victory. Capt. David Gaines, forward, from Detroit, was high for LeMoyn and the night with 38 points. Masterful backboard work was exhibited by Robert Nelson, center, a n d James Gordon, freshman forward from Louisville.

Boyd Currin, the freshman

OLDEST ROOKIE THAT EVER WALKED INTO THE MAJORS

"Maybe I'll Pitch Forever" by LeRoy (Satchel) Paige as told to David Lipman.

It was a great night, that Friday in August 1948 when "the rookie" won the game for the Cleveland Indians against the Chicago White Sox.

The rookie was Satchel Paige, aged 42, the first Negro to pitch in the American League and the oldest rookie, white or colored, to make the majors. In "Maybe I'll Pitch Forever" (Doubleday, March 23) he tells his phenomenal story to newspaper man David Lipman, who was working for the Kansas City Star when he first met Satchel.

Satchel Paige was born July 7, 1906, in Mobile. At seven he was toting bags at the railroad depot to help support his widowed mother and feed the thirteen hungry mouths in the family... for a dime a bag. As he tells it: "We weren't going to be eating much better if I made only a dime at a time, so I got me a pole and some ropes. That let me sling two, three, or four satchels at one time. My invention wasn't a smart-looking thing, but it upped my income. The

Carver Ties Melrose For 3rd Place By Edging Out Wildcats

The prep league schedule was completed last week, with four games being played. Carver, off-and-on all year, closed with a rush, to tie Melrose for third place by edging the Golden Wildcats 70-67 and 71-65. One of the games was a make-up date for a snowed-out game.

Douglass got off to a fast start against Lester, but the Lions' superior bench strength finally withered away the Red Devils' lead. Lester finished strong in salting away a 66-59 win, with a freeze in the last minute of play.

Douglass was able to hold off fast finishing Bertrand 58-54, in the season's finale at Douglass. The Thunderbolts avenged a previous 29 point loss to Manassas, by thumping the Tigers, 63-54, Wednesday afternoon on the Catholics' floor. The game ended in a near riot when substitute guard Samuels, was fouled and started a punching melee. The officials rushed in to prevent any injury.

The Washington Warriors, undefeated prep champs, with a 14-0 mark, are slim favorites in this week's District I Tournament, being held at Melrose February 21, 22, 23. At press time, the positions weren't settled, thus, the brackets were incomplete. The Warriors head the top bracket with either Carver, Melrose, Manassas or Douglass. Coins will have to be flipped between Carver and Melrose for third position and Manassas and Douglass for fifth.

Lester heads the lower spot with teams four and six. Both Lester and Washington will not see action until the semifinals, having received opening round byes. The finals are slated for Friday, with the four surviving teams save the consolation loser, will represent District I in the Region III action, beginning the following Wednesday at Washington.

Carver and Lester are the two teams to watch in the district scramble.

Jess Mortensen, U.S.'s Greatest Track Coach, Dies

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — Jesse P. Mortensen, one of America's top track and field coaches who turned out championship teams for more than a decade at University of Southern California, died at the age of 54.

At the time of his sudden death from a pulmonary embolism, Mortensen was under consideration for the post of head coach of the United States Olympic team for the 1964 Tokyo Games.

Although he had been suffering from a circulatory ailment since last summer, Mortensen was preparing for the current track and field season which gets underway this weekend for his Trojan team. Last week the tall, quiet-spoken coach stayed away from his office because he did not feel well and he entered Good Samaritan Hospital after complaining of chest pains.

During that period his teams won seven National Championships and went undefeated in 79 team meets.

4 Aggie Football Players Contract

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Four-star football players with the A and T college Aggies last week signed contracts with professional football teams.

Leading the list were two senior halfbacks, Joe Taylor and Eugene Cambridge. Taylor signed with the New York Giants of the National Football League. Cambridge is under contract with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League. Both come from Miami, Fla.

Two others, Robert Faulkner, a Charlotte, N. C. end, and Harvey Keaton, a Shelby N. C. defensive halfback also signed with the Dallas club.

Warriors Capture Championship

The Wiry Warriors of Washington high have done it again! The Washington basketball "Warriors" are again city champions, after a series of "Just missed-it" lapses of three years.

The victory came at the southside school is, "Once more the Mighty Warriors are Kings of the Courts."

The Warriors won the local cage championship with a string of 14 straight wins, climaxing with a thrill-finish over their strongest opponents, the Lester Lions, in the last regular game of the current season. The season began for Washington on Nov. 28, in a game with Higgins high school of Clarkdale, Miss. The seasons anticlimax was a Warrior victory over Lauderdale high school of Ripley, Tennessee. Lester was p... out of competition in its own gymnasium with a ten-point margin for victory.

The season for Washington ends with a record of 24-games won and only 2 lost, with the Warriors meeting each of the seven other teams in the Memphis Prep League at least twice. The seasons two losses were one to Douglas in the LeMoyn Holiday Tournament, and to Coleman high school in Greenville, Miss.

LOSE VARSITY

The Warriors amassed a total of 1866 scoring points during the season. High scorers for the team were Charles Powell with 426 points, Willie Ward with 424, making a close second, Sherman Yates, with 316, Leroy Weakley with 226, and Edward Robertson with 126.

The Warriors will lose five varsity men who are seniors this year. But the warning comes from the Warrior camp that opponents may still beware... for there are four juniors left and two sophomores comprising the winning combination.

The graduating seniors have been playing together approximately five years, having banded themselves together with small boys at Porter Junior high school. They have played together the whole four years of Senior high school attendance. The current Warrior team consist of: Sherman Yates, Charles Powell, Willie Ward, Edward Robertson, and Herschel Boone, all seniors; along with: Julian Banks, Walter Cummings, Marion Brewer, Leroy Weakley, Louis McCoy, and

Golfing With 'Lil'

The spotlight was on golf as the tireless behind-the-scenes worker in golf, Dr. H. H. Johnson brought the members of the Tri-State Sportsmen club pictures from the six holes pecked out for them at Lincoln park many years ago to the golf course nearest you at the club's annual wild life dinner Friday night at the Fuller club house.

Mrs. Odessa Dickens (Lady City champion) told the members of the club of her travels in golf and had on display some of the beautiful trophies she had won. Many phases of sports was shown, members were shown hunting a n d fishing, along with some horse backriding by the kids.

RONALD ESTER

This was the eleven-Warrior band that won 14 straight victories in the season now closing to win the city championship for Washington for the first time in five years.

ODDS BEING EVEN

The team is now readying for the District One tournament slated to begin Wednesday night at Melrose Stadium. Competing teams will include Washington, Lester, Melrose, Carver, Manassas, and Douglas.

Winner of District One crown will then get set for the Region 3 tournament scheduled Feb. 28 thru March 3, at Blair T. Hunt Gymnasium. All the top teams in the Region, which includes schools in Shelby, Lauderdale and Fayette Counties will compete. This winner will go to the state tourney in Nashville, Tennessee, March 10, 11, 12.

Coach William "Bill" Fowles, veteran Washington coach, has put tough Warrior teams on the boards for ten years.

Most of the meat served at the dinner was trapped or shot by the club members. It included venison, quail, duck, rabbit, coon, pheasant and chicken and was prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Simpson.

One of the pioneers of the club stated most of the members know that all sports mean hard work and no matter how you try to get the Lady of the house to go out for them, "You are fighting a losing cause." Could it be that the southern madam is a wee bit lazy?

Program chairman for this outstanding affair was Dr. Johnson. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Randy Howell of Columbia, Tennessee, noted hunter from the Nashville area. Also here from Columbia were Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Harlan boat enthusiast. Dr. Stanley Ish, Jr., who is president of this group was presented an award as the "Hunter of the Year."

If by chance you find Dr. A. A. Watson, Jr., and Harold Whalum acting a little strange the next few days, it is because they devoured more venison and coon than the other members of the club.

Thanks for inviting us and will I see some of you ladies on the golf course next week?

VALUABLE PAPERS

If an emergency arose, could you locate valuable papers? Are they safe from loss through fire or misplacements?

Having valuable papers in a good, safe place may prevent many headaches as well as heartaches later on, says LaVerne Farmer, U-T Extension home management specialist.

Among the many papers that farm people should safeguard are deeds, mortgages, notes, wills, insurance policies, birth certificates, tax receipts, duplicate copies of income tax reports, social security cards, and marriage certificates.

One of the best ways to insure the safety of your valuable papers is to rent a safety deposit box in which to store them. If a safety deposit box is not available, buy some sort of fireproof chest or box to keep at home.

WILLS-DEEDS

To insure safety of such papers as wills, deeds, and mortgages, also have them recorded or filed in the appropriate county office. And in case of mortgages, not only keep receipts for payment of the mortgage, but when the mortgage has been paid in full, also cancel the record of it in the office of your county clerk.

The University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service has a concise form for keeping an accurate, up-to-date account of where these important records are kept and briefly listing what is included in each record. Form 472 is available, free of charge, through your county agent's office.

"PIGGY BANK"

In considering the need for keeping valuable papers in a safe place, it is also well to consider how much money to keep on hand. Generally speaking, the best policy is to keep only enough cash on hand to conduct daily affairs.

The best place for cash, is in the bank—not in a fruit jar or some other household "piggy bank."

COTTON ACREAGE

The next few weeks may be the last opportunity for some farmers to protect their acreage history, since this is the last year of acreage release-redistribution program.

Failure by farmers to plant their cotton acreage or release it for reappportionment will mean loss of farm income in Tennessee. Cotton acreage not planted in the last two years must be planted or released in 1962, or the state will lose acreage history for future allotments.

In 1961, some 21,182 acres of cotton was released, most of which (21,021 acres) was reapportioned. There would have been a loss of more than 3 million dollars in income had this acreage history by releasing the allotment to the ASC County Committee by April 1, 1962. Farmers who fail to plant at least 75 per cent of their 1962 allotment and release the unused part will find their 1963 allotment reduced. Released allotments will be apportioned to other farmers in the county.

COTTON FARMERS

Cotton farmers must meet the following requirements in 1962 in order to protect fully their future farm allotments: (1) plant at least 75 percent of the 1962 allotment; (2) release at least 75 percent of the 1962 allotment; to the ASC County Comm. by the April 1 deadline; or (3) plant and release a total acreage which is equal to at least 75 per cent of the 1962 allotment; and (4) actually plant some cotton in 1962 if the entire allotment was released in both 1960 and 1961. Acreage in the Conservation Reserve program at the regular rate may be regarded as "planted under this program provision."

Peace Corps Seeks 70 Teachers For Liberia

A Peace Corps educational project with the Republic of Liberia has been announced by Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps Director.

In response to a request from President William V. S. Tubman of Liberia, up to 70 Peace Corps Volunteers are scheduled to begin teaching in Liberian secondary schools in September.

With some assistance from the Agency for International Development, Liberia is launching an extensive school-building program for senior and junior high schools, and elementary schools. Peace Corps Volunteers will help staff the new schools and provide temporary replacements for Liberian teachers who are to receive further training.

Up to 40 Volunteers are needed at the junior high school level to teach science, mathematics, language arts, vocational education, French, music, and arts and crafts. Up to 20 Volunteers are needed at the senior high school level to teach general science, English, French and vocational guidance. In addition, 10 Volunteers have been requested for the teacher training schools in the fields of science, mathematics, English, communication arts, and professional education.

TWO AT A SCHOOL

Volunteers will be under the supervision of the Liberian Department of Education and local school officials. They will be expected to teach a full schedule of courses and participate in the after-school activities. About a third will be located in Monrovia, the capital. Others will be assigned to a dozen other locations, primarily urban. It is expected that at least two Volunteers will be assigned to each school.

To help support them in carrying out their teaching assignments, the Volunteers will bring with them a variety of instructional materials and equipment, such as books, visual aids, periodicals, films and light demonstration or experimental equipment.

The selection of candidates for the project will begin about the first of April. Two months of training at an American university, yet to be announced, will start about the middle of June. After home leave, there will be a brief orientation period in Liberia before the volunteers begin their teaching assignments in the middle of September.

Liberia is slightly larger than Tennessee, is located on the coast of West Africa and has a population of about 2,500,000.

The nation was founded in 1822 by Negro freedmen from the United States with the assistance of American colonization societies. It became a republic in 1847 and has a Constitution modeled after the U. S.

William V. S. Tubman is president of the country and has been elected to the office four successive times since 1943. Liberia is covered with tropical forests and is rich in timber and oil nuts. Its chief products are fibre, palm kernels, crude rubber, rice, cassava, coffee, cocoa, sugar, iron ore, gold and diamonds.

VARIABLE CLIMATE

The climate varies from the humid coast to the cooler and drier highlands of the interior. It is generally very warm during the dry season and cool in the rainy season.

English is the official language of the country, but many dialects are spoken.

SOCIAL NEWS

Douglass is having its first campus rating of a social club on Scholastic percentage. First and third six week period and semester highest percentage goes to the Gracious Diamond club. The Elite Club was second, and, Daughters of Douglass third.

We are sure the clubs will strive to reach the top and the Gracious Diamond will try to stay on top.

IT WOULD BE LOVELY—if James Smith would stop writing on desk.

Chester Nunnally and a certain Junior would go back together.

Roderick Diggs of Manassas knew how a certain senior or at Douglass feels about him, and who she really is.

A certain senior could become better acquainted with a Melrose Basketball Star. (That is Number 13).

T. C. Haraway could really give his heart to a certain sophomore.

The "Clant" wouldn't think for each other.

Gwen Williams wouldn't be so interested in a certain senior or at Manassas.

Edmond White wouldn't think that all young girls were foxy.

REPETITIOUS CONTROVERSY

The fact that the Negro consumer spent 17 billion dollars in this country last year is becoming more apparent now to the people that spent this large amount, the Negro. Heretofore and very previously the amount spent was 14 billion dollars in 1958 to 16 billion dollars the following year. We speak of the Negro that is just finding out how much he spends but this fact has long been recognized by the other race. But . . . Knowing the buying potential of this great mass of people more than the majority used this effect for get rich quick schemes.

In this, the implication is toward the merchant that peddles inferior products, not because there weren't better products available but because his market for these same products could be sold easily. Sold easily because the consumer was not aware of what he was buying, glad to be getting something a little better than his neighbors or it was a little better than he was normally used to, and the familiar axiom, "I don't care."

One of these products to be easily and readily peddled was homes for Negroes in the segregated south. One does not have to think too hard to remember the caliber of homes heralded for Negroes a few years back. This billion dollar was noticed by someone and then the quickly constructed homes with inferior products built into them became more and more noticeably refutable. Common thinking would dictate that if there's a race of people spending so much money each year that a home constructed of worthwhile products would sell even quicker than one with cheaper material.

CONTRAST

Locally, this fact has been recognized. Take Evergreen Gardens for instance as an example of the search for better homes and the unrecorded wealth of a people. Evergreen Gardens was sold at such a rapid pace that the building profession of this fair city was surprised. Then came the Walker Homes; one of the first housing developments undertaken exclusively for Negroes. It was sold at an alarming pace.

A more recent development is now underway and the scramble for these homes was unthought of not long ago. Some say they are getting a better home constructed and others are thinking that "well, if I am not, it's better than where I just left." Here we find a man buying a product not knowing or caring if this is what he will want 15 years from now or if 15 days hence the roof will cave in. To round out the controversy, he has spent his money and 90 out of 99 chances he didn't care what or who he was spending his money for or with.

THE PROBLEM

Let us keep in mind this vast amount of money being spent. Let us also bear in mind the trend started by our spending. The NAACP and other similar groups strongly insist that the Negro patronize his own race first and then if not successful, one knows what to do. Mythical or not the Negro has a phobia against his own people when it comes to business and other relations where his money is concerned. Who is to blame for this fear of one's own race in matter of business?

I certainly don't know the cause but I am sure you can recall the time when dealing with aforementioned that it seemed you weren't given the best of service and you felt that if trading on the other side of the fence things might have been better. At this point I would venture to say that this fear of each other was brought on by this inattention, slipshod service and this way of doing business in a procrustean manner, the same people who condemn you for trading on the other side. The Negro merchants are becoming aware that he is guilty.

At this point the controversy gains momentum and a never ending debate is started. We must concede that there is some ignorance involved. This thing about not trusting each other has been handed down from generation to generation. True, it started from trifle things but now the items are too expensive to be unconcerned.

The fact that certain items cannot be traded with others is apparent. Mothers must go to the hospital and as they say "I have but one beautician in town." Nothing can be done
